Philippines today continued to reel under the heavy drum beat of American bombs while United States forces elsewhere in the western Pacific captured another atoll from the enemy.

Pacific Fleet Headquarters revealed that units of the 81st Army infantry division had occupied six lands in Ulithi Atoll. The landings were made Sept. 20-21 without Japanese opposition.

Ulithi is the largest atoll in the western Caroline Islands. It is 19 miles long and 10 miles wide, and lies 35 miles northeast of Japan.

The communiqué issued by Admiral Chester W. Nimitz stated also that carrier aircraft of Admiral William F. Halsey's Third Fleet are continuing to attack objectives in the Philippines. The huge carrier force apparently drew little—if any opposition either from Japanese air or air forces.

The communiqué did not yield further reports regarding the massing attacks against Formosa, but a statement from Pacific Fleet

ALLIES MOP UP SEGMENTS OF SIEGFRIED LINES

Supreme Headquarters, Allied Expeditionary Force.—Segments of the Siegfried line northwest of Aachen were mopped up today by the American First Army coincident with British and Canadian assaults to expand Allied holdings in the Netherlands.

The Germans, in their first counter-attack on the Aachen sector in 30 hours, loosed an assault near Wurselen at 7:30 a. m. today, a Reuter front report said. The counter-blow was sustained for an hour before it was checked by the Americans.

A correspondent with the British Second Army reported capture of the town of Venray, eight miles from the Reich frontier. All organized German resistance was reported smashed.

Another front dispatch reported that the American Third Army smashed forward 1,500 yards along the west bank of the Moselle River, reaching a point within four miles of the German-held French fortress city of Metz.

AMERICANS WITHIN 8 MILES OF BOLOGNA

Rome.—American troops of the Allied Fifth Army in Italy smashed northward along the Bologna-Florence Highway today to within eight miles of Bologna.

The advance against bitter German opposition was made with the help of close support by the tactical air force and advanced elements reached Monte Belmonte.

Eighth Army troops on the Adriatic sector, pushing forward parallel with the Rimini-Bologna road in a broad enveloping movement, reached the Pisciatello river and sent spearheads to within two miles of the industrial city of Cesena.

Heavy fighting raged on both the Fifth and Eighth Army fronts, particularly north of Livorno where Nazi Field Marshal Albert Kesselring threw in additional reserves and launched successive counter-attacks in an attempt to delay the relentless march on Bologna.

of Mr. and Mrs. John Schultz, Qua-

Bronze Star Medal at the headquarters of the Central Pacific Base Command.

The award was made for heroic achievement during the Seventh Infantry Division's landing operations on Kwajalein Atoll on February 2, 1944. When the landing craft went aground on a reef approaching the beach, a crewman was injured trying to free the boat.

Pvt. Schultz voluntarily braved the enemy fire to swim 200 yards to shore where he succeeded in obtaining medical aid for the injured sailor and the help of a patrol craft to pull the boat from the reef.

A graduate of Quakertown high school, Schultz is a machine gun-

MOST CROPS ARE IN; FROST HARM SLIGHT

Little Damage Done by The Heavy Frost of This Week, Says Greenawalt

APPLE YIELD IS LIGHT

DOYLESTOWN, Oct. 18.—The frost of this week, first of the season and fairly heavy, caused little damage in the county, states Bucks County Farm Agent William F.
Greenawalt, due to the fact that most of the crops which might be harmed by heavy frost have been harvested.

As yet, spinach, carrots, beets, celery and cabbage remain to be harvested, but, according to Mr.
Greenawalt, these vegetables are able to stand much colder weather.

The frost, said Mr. Greenawalt, has reduced the feeding value of the pastures, upon which many of the farmers have depended during the late summer and fall.

Weather conditions have been quite favorable for the farmers.
Silo filling has been completed, corn has been cut and the husking now is in full swing. Because of the unusually dry weather during the summer, the corn yield this season has been light.

Seeding of wheat and rye is almost completed, and the grain which has been sown is beginning to germinate. Weather conditions for seeding have been unusually favorable for the farmers.

Orchardists are in the midst of picking the late apple crop, the yield of which this season has been light. This is due to the dry weather. In addition, this was an off year for some of the orchards. The set of apples early in the summer was rather light.

Digging of late potatoes also is in progress, but the yield has been quite light because of the dry weather conditions.

GIVES REPORT ON CO. MEDICAL SUPPLIES

Distribution of Equipment
Outlined by Dr. A. H.
Moore, Gen'l Chairman

BALANCE IS $1,632.91

A report on medical supplies of Bucks County Defense group, made public by Dr. Allen H. Moore, Doylestown, general chairman of the medical division, shows how supplies were distributed, the amount of funds raised, etc.

J. Purdy Weiss, of the county seat, treasurer of the medical supplies division, states that $8,397.48 has been received by the division in contributions. The sum paid out is $6,764.57, leaving a balance in Doylestown Trust Co. of $1,632.91.

Dr. Moore's report follows:
"Supplies were purchased by a committee with the money raised during the campaign for funds.

"As the medical and surgical supplies arrived they were stored in a private room at the Doylestown Moose Home. This was done because of the central location. The commanding officer of this corps area requested that the supplies
be kept pretty well intact as possible, stating that it would be possible to shift needed supplies to any part of the county in a short notice.

"Later it was decided to distribute a part of the supplies to Qua-kertown for storage and distribution when needed.

"Bristol has done a splendid job in getting base hospitals and field hospitals equipped with supplies and personnel with their own independent organization in cooperation with the County Medical Supplies Division.

"At a later time the supplies at Quakertown were redistributed to the various Emergency Hospitals in Quakertown, Sellersville, and Perkasie.

"In Doylestown all of the remaining supplies at the Moose Home were distributed to the Doylestown Emergency Hospital, and the three field hospitals in Doylestown, the Baptist church, the Veterans of Foreign Wars, and the Reformed Church.

Also out of the supplies from the Moose Home storage quarters 100 emergency ambulances (station wagons or the equivalent) were equipped with bandages, stretchers, splints, cotton, triangular bandages, blankets.

"Again, out of the Moose Home storage quarters, a rolling field hospital was equipped and a converted ambulance donated by Eric Knight.

"Emergency trunks were purchased, packed with emergency supplies, and turned over to the permanent hospitals for the duration.

"A large Packard house car was donated by Dr. H. V. Inches, of Chalfont, to be used as a rolling field hospital. This was overhauled, painted and equipped with emergency supplies and stored in the garage of the Reading Railroad, Doylestown.

"The equipment of the emergency ambulances is still intact with the owners and drivers of the respective station wagons, holding them in readiness for any possible local disaster such as a fire, explosion, flood. All owners of the emergency ambulances signed receipt for the supplies.

"The field hospital at the Doylestown Baptist Church has been abandoned. The supplies were taken from there to the Doylestown Emergency Hospital. There are supplies stored in the Reformed Church and the Veterans of Foreign Wars building.

"The supplies that were taken to Quakertown are now at Grand View
Hospital and the Quakertown Community Hospital and the Tice Laboratories.

"The Croydon Field Hospital was supplied from the Moose Home storage at Doylestown. They have since been redistributed to the Bucks County Rescue Squad, Croydon.

"CLEAR EVERYTHING WITH SIDNEY"

HOW VOLUNTARY IS "VOLUNTARY"

(Doylestown Intelligencer)

Persistently the propaganda experts of Hillman's Political Action Committee stress that the PAC activities are "voluntary."

This contention is fantastic. To realize its absurdity one needs only remember that, as a voluntary movement, any or all of the political objectives could be attained through the regular party organizations of the Democrats or Republicans.

The "voluntary" contributions could be made through either of these parties, and the "voluntary" political support given through votes on election day.

PAC was formed because the Democratic Party needed, not "voluntary" help, but a steady supply of slush funds and a stock of controllable votes.

It might also be observed, and it is important to remember, that even if throughout the campaign every dollar and every vote of PAC were really "voluntary", the fact remains that the success of this program at this Fall's election would still leave well-established machinery in existence for strongly coercive future political control and use of labor's money and votes.

It is just as important to realize that so deadly a political weapon has been created as it is to decide whether it is now being used or merely being saved for the future.

Almost every daily newspaper, however, prints strong evidence of coercive methods already being used by Hill-man's PAC.

Anyone who keeps his ears open will hear an abundant mass of additional and perhaps even more convincing accounts of the turmoil and pressure by which the "voluntary" donations are being collected—stories of intimadation, of protest resignations, of the use even of the "checkoff" to gather in the "voluntary" dollars.

A recent article in Reader's Digest, written by William E. Mullins, political editor of the Boston Herald, said in part:

"Now, through my union's affiliation with the CIO, I find myself represented in politics, without my consent and against my will, by the CIO's Political Action Committee. I find myself in political company which frequently
I do not like and pledged to political principles which frequently I do not share."

"We labor people are forfeiting the good will of multitudes of our fellow citizens because the Political Action

A. LEYDEN IMPROVES; NOW IN THE STATES

Ward Surgeon In England
Impressed With Condition
of Patients on Arrival

FAST, FURIOUS FIGHT

A U. S. GENERAL HOSPITAL,
England, Oct. 18.—Wounded in a German counter-attack near St. Lo, Private Aloysius Leyden, 37, of Jackson street, Bristol, Pa., is now recovering and has returned to the United States. Leyden, who was hospitalized in England, has been awarded the Purple Heart. He is at present in South Carolina, and will be assigned to a hospital in the States for further treatment.

In the hard, close fighting of the St. Lo sector, Pvt. Leyden suffered shrapnel wounds in the right arm and shoulder while fighting to beat off a German bid for the important ground near the Vire river.

He made "good progress," according to his ward surgeon, Capt. Lincoln Ries, of Everett, Wash. "What particularly impressed us," Capt. Ries commented, "is the excellent condition in which
Pvt. Leyden arrived here. Good care right at the time of the injury makes our work a whole lot easier."

"It was fast and furious while it lasted," said Pvt. Leyden. "We were dug in about 50 yards from the enemy and throwing everything we could—small arms, mortars, machine guns, artillery. The Jerries were firing their 88s flat into our positions."

Fragments from an 88 mm. howitzer shell wounded Pvt. Leyden.

"I didn't hear it coming," he said.
"I was crouched in a shallow sort of foxhole. My squad leader a few yards away was waiting orders from the Lieutenant. There was a sudden crash. One of those 88s hit close by. Something which felt like a 19-ton truck hit my arm."

PROCLAMATION

A group of representative residents of Bristol and the adjacent communities have launched a campaign to raise $48,000 toward the National War Fund. The money is to be used for the support of U. S. O. (United Service Organizations), United Seamen's Service, War Prisoners' Aid, United Nations Relief and Refugee Relief.

Sixteen thousand dollars of the total of $48,000 is to be used for local charity, according to the announcement. This fund to be disbursed by a committee named by me.

WHEREAS: In these times of sorrow and need much money is required to ameliorate the suffering among the peoples of the occupied and devastated regions of the United Nations, among war prisoners and refugees, and our own service men, and

WHEREAS: The organizations which will participate in this fund include such well known agencies as United Service Organizations, the United Seamen's Service, War Prisoner's Aid, British War Relief Society, French Relief Fund, Friends of Luxembourg, Greek War Relief Association, Norwegian Relief, Polish War Relief, Queen Wilhelmina Fund, Russian War Relief, United China Relief, United Czechoslovak Relief, United Yugoslav Relief, Refugee Relief Trusttees and United States Committee for the Care of European Children, and American Relief for Italy.

I, THEREFORE, urge all of the residents of Bristol to give generously to this cause and thus contribute their share to aid the families of those who are fighting that freedom might live and that all peoples of all of the United Nations might know that we who are fortunate in having the necessities of life are willing to share our good fortune, so as to aid them in their time of misfortune.

I hope that every individual in this community will contribute to this drive and not only aid in reaching the goal which has been set but exceed it.

GUAM ISSUE

Now and then the question of why the American island of Guam was not fortified to provide a damper on Japan's aggressive ardor is brought into the campaign. Certain members of Congress have been assailed as shortsighted because they voted against a modest appropriation of $5,000,000 for a commercial airport on the ground that it was a slick way of starting a $150,000,000 fortification plan.

The President said in August, after returning from his Pacific tour, that his administration was not "allowed" to fortify Guam, leaving the impression that his administration was blocked in this purpose by the opposition.

In the light of what happened at Pearl Harbor, which was fortified with about everything but proper precautionary advice, and in the Philippines, where a magnificently gallant American force made up in courage for what it was denied in strength, the less said about Guam by defenders of the New Dealers the better.

The Guam fortification was up in 1939, less than three years before Pearl Harbor. Had the United States undertaken at that time to fortify it to the limit of its supply possibilities, little would have been done by the time the Japanese were ready to strike. The Japanese would have isolated and reduced a partially fortified Guam as easily as they isolated and reduced the Philippines and other Pacific islands.

It was, in fact, never a defensible strong point under the appeasement and one-on-one navy policy of the New Deal.

WAR RELIEF

One of the interesting phases of Italian relief, much in the news as the Presidential race draws to a close, is that payments to American soldiers in Italy eventually are translated into essential goods for the Italian people. The soldiers are paid in American-printed lira notes, the unit of Italian currency. The soldiers spend the money in Italy, presumably for non-essential items such as souvenirs, and for services. Then this country credits the American-printed Italian money to the Italian government, redeeming it in necessities such as food and clothing.

This is an ingenious device designed to help the Italians to help themselves. The more services they give to American troops, the more relief goods will be coming to the Italian people. It should work unless American and Allied troops are actually consuming Italian food. In that event, American food would merely be a replacement.

The same method has been applied in France and the money, American and British printed francs, will be redeemed in the same way. By all accounts, the French are not so much in need of food as they are of other consumer goods. How the Russians are handling relief in Poland is, of course, a secret.

It was not long before Medical Company Aid Men appeared and administered first aid, Pvt. Leyden related.

"I started to call for a medic but two of them were at my side before I had a chance. They cut away my sleeve, sprinkled sulphanilamide on my arm, and bound it up. They gave me a shot of morphine. My squad leader and lieutenant had come over and they did what they could to help," he said.

Pvt. Leyden was carried by litter to the rear where his wounds were given further attention at aid stations and field hospitals. Later he was transported by LST to England and treated at a U. S. Army Hospital.

Colonel A. G. Gould, of Ithaca, N. Y., commanding officer of the hospital, said, "Pvt. Leyden received as good care and treatment as he would at any up-to-date, metropolitan hospital in the United States."

Pvt. Leyden is the son of Fred Leyden, Pond street, Bristol, Pa. His wife, Sara, lives at the Jackson street address.

one time was a director of the Riegelville National Bank. In addition to his widow, Mary, Mr. Good is survived by five children, Frank D. Good, Doylestown; Mrs. Roger Nicholas, Philadelphia; and George B. and Howard Good and Mrs. Earl Gruver, Ottsville. Mr. Good is survived also by six grandchildren, a brother, Henry Guth, the Harrow, and two sisters, Mrs. Abel Strouse, Lansdale, and Mrs. Amanda Swope, Germantown.

Garments which had been made at a special session of the Keller's Church Community Flower and Garden Club were on display at a meeting of the club at the home of Mrs. Freeman Johnson, Keller's Church, last week. Those garments were made for the Needlework Guild, and included a 48-piece layette.

Announcement was made that the members had filled 40 jars of fruit and vegetables to be donated to the Doylestown Emergency Hospital.

The club decided to donate $6 to the Red Cross to be forwarded as Christmas gifts for the prisoners of war.

At the close of the business session a demonstration on flower arrangement was given by the county home economics representative, Mrs. Mary J. Fleetham.

Japs Reel Under Bomb Attack On The Philippines

Headquarters branded Japanese versions of the action as "complete falsehood."

"There has been no damage of consequence to our battleships or carriers" since Oct. 10 when Bull Halsey's fleet roared into action in Japan's backyard.

A new scourge was hurled against the enemy in the Philippines when land-based fighter planes of the Far Eastern Air Force roared down upon Mindanao Island for a low-level strafing attack, first of its nature executed in the former American islands.

General Douglas MacArthur revealed that the fighter sweep caught the enemy by surprise, resulted in the destruction of 62 Japanese trucks and six staff cars overtaken in a motor convoy and heavy casualties among units of a mounted cavalry outfit which was strafed.

Other American planes carried out attacks on Japanese installations at other strategic points in the southwest Pacific.

Over in Europe, United States troops carried on with their tortuous, methodical efforts to eradicate the Nazi defenders of Aachen. The beleaguered garrison reportedly increased its efforts to break out of the ring of steel and fire surrounding them in the battered town.

British and Canadian forces, on both the eastern and western sectors of the Holland front expanded their holdings.

On the Eastern Front, powerful Russian air forces maintained relentless attacks in advance of the Red armies driving toward the East Prussian capital of Koenigsberg. The shattering Soviet aerial blows cut heavily into transportation and communication facilities in East Prussia.

Hungary's effort to extricate itself from the war and from Germany's side apparently made little progress in view of a reported total mobilization ordered by the new pro-Fascist government of Ferenc Szalasi who usurped the regency.

From Stockholm came word that German forces in Finland, fearing entrapment by the Russians moving in from the north and the Finns advancing from the south, were in speedy flight toward Norway.

And, from London came reports that General Eisenhower soon will declare most of France, including Paris, a "zone of the interior," which will revert completely to French control.

Juniors Prepare Clothing For Relief of Russians

YARDLEY, Oct. 18.—There were 22 members present at a recent meeting of the Junior Civic Club at the Community Centre. After a letter was read from the Russian Relief Committee concerning clothing already cut but needing sewing, it was decided to send for samples to be presented at the next meeting.

Reports were given by Miss Eleanor Caffey and Natalie Taylor, the club's representatives to the proposed School Door Canteen, as to what the students wished in the way of management and amusement.

Miss Elsie Davis reported on the boxes which are being sent to Yardley service women for Christmas. There are at present 11 girls in the service of whom one is serving overseas. A gift already has been sent to her. Of the 11, three are nurses, one WAC, one Marine and six WAVES.

It was voted to contribute $10 to the National War Fund and $5 for the Community Activities Committee.

Two new members were welcomed, Miss Carol Cadwallader and Miss Wilma Stevenson. Miss Natalie Taylor was voted to represent the club on the permanent executive board of directors of the School Door Canteen.

Periodic functional pains don't worry me now. Thanks to those grand new Chi-Ches-Ters Pills! My druggist tells me the reason they're so effective is because of a special ingredient which is intended to help relieve the tension that causes functional distress. It works by helping to relax the affected part—not merely by deadening pain. The new Chi-Ches-Ters contain an added iron factor, too, intended to act as a tonic on your blood. Try the new Chi-Ches-Ters Pills on your "difficult days." Ask your druggist tomorrow for a 50c size and follow directions on the package.

other two over.

The boys of Coach Lavenberg
played good ball but could not cope cal Action Committee, will seek a personal contribution of one dollar from each CIO union member. I know the

On September 29 an Associated Press story out of Washington carried the following:

" . . . Dock J. Williams testified (to the Dies subcommittee) that he was ousted by union higher-ups from the presidency of Local No. 25, United Packinghouse Workers Union, because he refused to approve a request for a $1500 contribution by his local for 'political education.'"

It should be noted that the contribution referred to does not appear to bear even the semblance of being a "voluntary political contribution" from members of the union, but rather a direct assessment upon the union's own funds.

Similar donations were referred to in an International News Service story out of Washington on September 26:
"Senator Homer Ferguson, R. Mich., declared today that Attorney General Biddle 'missed the whole point' of the Hatch Act when he 'cleared' the CIO Political Action Committee and its successor, the National Citizens' Political Action Committee, of illegal political practices.

"Ferguson . . . contradicted Biddle's statement that testimony . . . disclosed no contributions of more than $500—the limit prescribed by the Hatch Act.

"He said that Biddle 'missed the point' by brushing aside committee testimony by Sidney Hillman, PAC chairman, that five unions contributed $100,000 each to PAC, and eight others gave from $10,000 to $50,000. A report filed with the clerk of the House listed $80,000 in contributions to the PAC from the CIO's Electrical, Radio and Machine Workers Union."

Evidence could be multiplied endlessly that the members of the CIO unions have little say, first, on the question of whether they make a "voluntary" donation to Hill-man's PAC, and second, whether the union's reserve funds be tapped by the officers for such political use.

UNBROKEN FAITH

"UNBROKEN FAITH." These two words, carved on the monument marking the site of William Penn's treaty with the Indians, have in a real sense become the guiding precept of the city Penn created.

In war or peace, in good times or poor, this heritage of Faith Unbroken—passed on by the city's founders—has strengthened the will and quickened the hands of Philadelphians in their service to the nation and to the world.

Your neighbors who operate Philadelphia Electric are proud to join their fellow citizens

on a pass while Burns ran the other two over.

played good ball but could not cope

APS REEL UNDER BOMB ATTACK ON THE PHILIPPINES

United States Forces Cap-

IX ISLANDS OCCUPIED

Large Carrier Force Draws Little or No Opposition

By International News Service

Japanese installations in the Philippines today continued to reel
under the heavy drum beat of American bombs while United States forces elsewhere in the western Pacific captured another atoll
from the enemy.

vealed that units of the 81st Army
infantry division had occupied six islands in Ulithi Atoll. The landings were made Sept. 29-31 without Japanese opposition.

Ulithi is the largest atoll in the western Caroline Islands. It is 19
miles long and 10 miles wide, and
lies 35 miles northeast of Japan.

The communiqué issued by Admiral Chester W. Nimitz stated also
that carrier aircraft of Admiral
continuing to attack objectives in
opposition either from Japanese
air or air forces.

any further reports regarding the bombing attacks against Formosa,

Supreme Headquarters, Allied Expeditionary Force—Segments of the Siegfried line northwest of Aachen were mopped up today by the American First Army coincident with British and Canadian assaults to expand Allied holdings in the Netherlands.

The Germans, in their first counter-attack on the Aachen sector in 30 hours loosed an assault near Wurselen at 7:30 a. m. today, a Reuter front report said. The counter-blow was sustained for an hour before it was checked by the Americans.

German resistance was reported smashed.

smashed forward 1,500 yards along the west bank of the Moselle River, reaching a point within four miles of the German-held French fortress city of Metz.

Rome—American troops of the Allied Fifth Army in Italy smashed
northward along the Bologna-Florence Highway today to within eight miles of Bologna.

The advance against bitter German opposition was made with the
reached Monte Belmonte.

Eighth Army troops on the Adriatic sector, pushing forward parallel with the Rimini-Bologna road in a broad enveloping movement, reached
the Pisciatello river and sent spearheads to within two miles of the industrial city of Cesena.

Heavy fighting raged on both the Fifth and Eighth Army fronts, particularly north of Livorno where Nazi Field Marshal Albert Kesselring threw in additional reserves and launched successive counter-
attacks in an attempt to delay the relentless march on Bologna.

Outlined by Dr. A. H.

A report on medical supplies of Bucks County Defense group, made
public by Dr. Allen H. Moore, Doylestown, general chairman of
the medical division, shows how
supplies were distributed, the
amount of funds raised, etc.

J. Purdy Weiss, of the county seat, treasurer of the medical supplies division, states that $8,397.48
has been received by the division
in contributions. The sum paid out
is $6,764.57, leaving a balance in Doylestown Trust Co. of $1,632.91.

Dr. Moore's report follows:
"Supplies were purchased by a
committee with the money raised
during the campaign for funds.

"As the medical and surgical supplies arrived they were stored in a private room at the Doylestown Moose Home. This was done because of the central location. The commanding officer of this corps
area requested that the supplies
be kept pretty well intact as possible, stating that it would be possible to shift needed supplies to any part of the county in a short notice.

"Later it was decided to distribute a part of the supplies to Qua-
kertown for storage and distribution when needed.

"Bristol has done a splendid job
hospitals equipped with supplies
and personnel with their own independent organization in cooperation with the County Medical Supplies Division.

"At a later time the supplies at Quakertown were redistributed to
the various Emergency Hospitals in Quakertown, Sellersville,
and Perkasie.

"In Doylestown all of the remaining supplies at the Moose Home
were distributed to the Doylestown Emergency Hospital, and the three
field hospitals in Doylestown, the Baptist church, the Veterans of Foreign Wars, and the Reformed Church.

Moose Home storage quarters 100
emergency ambulances (station wagons or the equivalent) were
equipped with bandages, stretchers,
splints, cotton, triangular band-
ages, blankets.

"Again out of the Moose Home
storage quarters, a rolling field
hospital was equipped and a converted ambulance donated by Eric Knight.

"Emergency trunks were purchased, packed with emergency
permanent hospitals for the duration.

donated by Dr. H. V. Inches, of Chalfont, to be used as a rolling
field hospital. This was over-
hauled, painted and equipped with
emergency supplies and stored in
the garage of the Reading Railroad, Doylestown.

"The equipment of the emergency
owners and drivers of the respective station wagons, holding them
in readiness for any possible local
disaster such as a fire, explosion,
supplies.

"The field hospital at the Doylestown Baptist Church has been abandoned. The supplies were
taken from there to the Doylestown Emergency Hospital. There are
supplies stored in the Reformed Church and the Veterans of Foreign Wars building.

"The supplies that were taken to Quakertown are now at Grand View
Hospital and the Quakertown Community Hospital and the Tice Laboratories.

"The Croydon Field Hospital was
supplied from the Moose Home
storage at Doylestown. They have
since been redistributed to the
don.

HOW VOLUNTARY IS "VOLUNTARY"
(Doylestown Intelligencer)

are "voluntary."

This contention is fantastic: To realize its absurdity
one needs only remember that, as a voluntary movement,
any or all of the political objectives could be attained
through the regular party organizations of the Democrats
or Republicans.

The "voluntary" contributions could be made through either of these parties, and the "voluntary" political support given through votes on election day.

PAC was formed because the Democratic Party needed, not "voluntary" help, but a steady supply of slush
funds and a stock of controllable votes.

member, that even if throughout the campaign every
existence for strongly coercive future political control and
use of labor's money and votes.

It is just as important to realize that so deadly a political weapon has been created as it is to decide whether it is now being used or merely being saved for the future.

Almost every daily newspaper, however, prints strong
evidence of coercive methods already being used by Hill-man's PAC.

Anyone who keeps his ears open will hear an abundant
mass of additional and perhaps even more convincing
accounts of the turmoil and pressure by which the "voluntary" donations are being collected—stories of intimidation, of protest resignations, of the use even of the "checkoff" to gather in the "voluntary" dollars.

A recent article in Reader's Digest, written by William E. Mullins, political editor of the Boston Herald, said in part:

"Now, through my union's affiliation with the CIO, I find myself represented in politics, without my consent
and against my will, by the CIO's Political Action Committee. I find myself in political company which frequently
I do not like and pledged to political principles which frequently I do not share . . .

"We labor people are forfeiting the good will of multitudes of our fellow citizens because the Political Action

Impressed With Condition

A U. S. GENERAL HOSPITAL,
England, Oct. 18.—Wounded in a German counter-attack near St. Lo,
Private Aloysius Leyden, 37, of Jackson street, Bristol, Pa., is now recovering and has returned to the
hospitalized in England, has been awarded the Purple Heart. He is at present in South Carolina, and
will be assigned to a hospital in
the States for further treatment.

In the hard, close fighting of the St. Lo sector, Pvt. Leyden suffered
shrapnel wounds in the right arm
off a German bid for the important
ground near the Vire river.

He made "good progress,"
according to his ward surgeon,
Capt. Lincoln Ries, of Everett, Wash. "What particularly impresses us," Capt. Ries commented, "is the excellent condition in which
Pvt. Leyden arrived here. Good care right at the time of the injury
makes our work a whole lot easier."

"It was fast and furious while it
lasted," said Pvt. Leyden. "We were
enemy and throwing everything we
could—small arms, mortars, machine guns, artillery. The Jerries
positions."

Fragments from an 88 mm.
howitzer shell wounded Pvt. Ley-
den.

"I didn't hear it coming," he said.
"I was crouched in a shallow sort
of foxhole. My squad leader a few yards away was waiting orders
from the Lieutenant. There was a sudden crash. One of those 88s hit
close by. Something which felt

the total of $48,000 is to be used
for local charity, according to the
disbursed by a committee named
by me.

of the United Nations, among war

contribute their share to aid the
families of those who are fighting for freedom and life and that all peoples of all of the United
necessities of life are willing to
share our good fortune, so as to
aid them in their time of mis-

I hope that every individual in
this community will contribute to
set but exceed it.

SCOUT LEADERS TAKE SECOND OF SERIES IN COURSE

Instruction Given Under Leadership of Scout Head Raymond W. Hoxworth

CREDITS AWARDED

Reports Show Finance Campaign Has Over 70%
Been Completed

The second in a series of weekend training courses was held at Camp Ockanickon, the Bucks County Boy Scout camp, with a group of men from all parts of the county taking part. The course was given under the leadership of Scout Executive Raymond W. Hoxworth and district commissioner Lloyd S.
Bucher of South Langhorne. A troop camping course was held with complete set up development food cooking and serving and camp program carried out on the basis of a troop actually at work in the field doing patrol camping. The following received certificates for having completed this course:
Harry S. Hoffman, Sr., Lower Makelfield; John Witbak, Andalusia; Edward F. Mills, Doylestown, and Fred Maag, Parkland. Credit towards training in basic scout-mastership was completed and awarded to Fred Tettemer of Nock-amixon, Nicholas Riccio, Line Lexington, and William Walsh, Jr., Parkland. A course for senior leaders and advanced scoutmastership will be held at Camp Ockanickon in the present series.

Reports of the finance campaign show that over 70% of the budget has been raised up to this time.
The contributions are beyond the amount subscribed for the support of Scouting for the entire period of the campaign last year. Council officials are looking forward to completion of the campaign throughout the county so that plans may be made for furtherance of the work of the Scout program in the county.

The organization committee, of which David M. Sheerer, Bristol, is chairman, has reported that troops are under organization in Carversville, New Britain, Newtown and Richboro. The service of the council is being extended to the extent whereby every boy in Bucks county will have an opportunity to join a troop if he so desires.

ford Hotel in Philadelphia, a meeting of Region Three of the Boy

Pres't P. G. Mack Outlines Andalusia P. T. A. Sessions

CORNWELLS HEIGHTS, Oct. 18 —Phillip G. Mack, new president of the Cornwells Parent-Teacher Association, calls attention of all members to a meeting to be held on Thursday evening at eight o'clock.

An interesting program has been prepared for the year, members being advised to secure their copy.
At this, the October session, the Rev. Ronald Ansley Wiley, new rector of the Episcopal Church of the Redeemer, Andalusia, will be the guest speaker. The Rev. Mr.
Wiley gave up another career for the ministry. His topic will be "Education as an Investment, not an Assessment."

Delegates to the Pennsylvania Congress of Parents and Teachers will give reports and information on the sessions. A new feature will be inaugurated in the meetings, in the form of a question box. Questions received one month will be answered at the following session.

Members are privileged to place suggestions in the box also. Refreshments will be served.

Mr. Mack advises members: "If you want to help and be helped in the coordinated work of parents, teachers and children, you can't afford to miss the P. T. A. meeting of October 19th."

Now and then the question of why the American island of Guam was not fortified to provide a damper on Japan's aggressive ardor is brought into the campaign. Certain members of Congress have been assailed as shortsighted because they voted against a modest appropriation of $5,000,000 for a commercial airport on the ground that it was a slick way of starting a $150,000,000 fortification plan.

The President said in August, after returning from his Pacific tour, that his administration was not "allowed" to fortify Guam, leaving the impression that his administration was blocked in this purpose by the opposition.

In the light of what happened at Pearl Harbor, which was fortified with about everything but proper precautionary advice, and in the Philippines, where a magnificently gallant American force made up in courage for what it was denied in strength, the less said about Guam by defenders of the New Dealers the better.

The Guam fortification was up in 1939, less than three years before Pearl Harbor. Had the United States undertaken at that time to fortify it to the limit of its supply possibilities, little would have been done by the time the Japanese were ready to strike. The Japanese would have isolated and reduced a partially fortified Guam as easily as they isolated and reduced the Philippines and other Pacific islands.

It was, in fact, never a defensible strong point under the appeasement and one-ocean navy policy of the New Deal.

One of the interesting phases of Italian relief, much in the news as the Presidential race draws to a close, is that payments to American soldiers in Italy eventually are translated into essential goods for the Italian people. The soldiers are paid in American-printed lira notes, the unit of Italian currency. The soldiers spend the money in Italy, presumably for non-essential items such as souvenirs, and for services. Then this country credits the American-printed Italian money to the Italian government, redeeming it in necessities such as food and clothing.

This is an ingenious device designed to help the Italians to help themselves. The more services they give to American troops, the more relief goods will be coming to the Italian people. It should work unless American and Allied troops are actually consuming Italian food. In that event, American food would merely be a replacement.

The same method has been applied in France and the money, American and British printed francs, will be redeemed in the same way. By all accounts, the French are not so much in need of food as they are of other consumer goods. How the Russians are handling relief in Poland is, of course a secret.

It was not long before Medical Company Aid Men appeared and administered first aid. Pvt. Leyden related.

"I started to call for a medic but two of them were at my side before I had a chance. They cut away my sleeve, sprinkled sulphamide on my arm, and bound it up. They gave me a shot of morphine. My squad leader and lieutenant had come over and they did what they could to help," he said.

Pvt. Leyden was carried by litter to the rear where his wounds were given further attention at aid stations and field hospitals. Later he was transported by LST to England and treated at a U. S. Army Hospital.

Colonel A. G. Gould, of Ithaca, N. Y., commanding officer of the hospital, said: "Pvt. Leyden received as good care and treatment as he would at any up-to-date, metropolitan hospital in the United States."

Pvt. Leyden is the son of Fred Leyden, Pond street, Bristol, Pa. His wife, Sara, lives at the Jackson street address.

the greater part of his life in this village. He at one time operated a hay press near Pipersville, and some years ago started a garage business there. Mr. Good also at one time was a director of the Riegelville National Bank.

In addition to his widow, Mary, Mr. Good is survived by five children, Frank D. Good, Doylestown; Mrs. Roger Nicholas, Philadelphia; and George B. and Howard Good and Mrs. Earl Gruver, Ottsville. Mr. Good is survived also by six grandchildren, a brother, Henry Guth, the Harrow, and two sisters, Mrs. Abel Strouse, Lansdale, and Mrs. Amanda Swope, Germantown.

Garments which had been made at a special session of the Keller's Church Community Flower and Garden Club were on display at a meeting of the club at the home of Mrs. Freeman Johnson, Kellers' Church, last week. These garments were made for the Needlework Guild, and included a 48-piece layette.

Announcement was made that the members had filled 40 jars of fruit and vegetables to be donated to the Doylestown Emergency Hospital.

The club decided to donate $6 to the Red Cross to be forwarded as Christmas gifts for the prisoners of war.

At the close of the business session a demonstration on flower arrangement was given by the county home economics representative, Mrs. Mary J. Fleetham.

Headquarters branded Japanese versions of the action as "complete falsehood."

"There has been no damage of consequence to our battleships or carriers" since Oct. 10 when Bull Halsey's fleet roared into action in Japan's backyard.

A new scourge was hurled against the enemy in the Philippines when land-based fighter planes of the Far Eastern Air Force roared down upon Mindanao Island for a low-level strafing attack, first of its nature executed in the former American islands.

General Douglas MacArthur revealed that the fighter sweep caught the enemy by surprise, resulted in the destruction of 62 Japanese trucks and six staff cars overtaken in a motor convoy and heavy casualties among units of a mounted cavalry outfit which was strafed.

Other American planes carried out attacks on Japanese installations at other strategic points in the southwest Pacific.

Over in Europe, United States troops carried on with their tortuous, methodical efforts to eradicate the Nazi defenders of Aachen. The beleaguered garrison reportedly increased its efforts to break out of the ring of steel and fire surrounding them in the battered town.

British and Canadian forces, on both the eastern and western sectors of the Holland front expanded their holdings.

On the Eastern Front, powerful Russian air forces maintained relentless attacks in advance of the Red armies driving toward the East Prussian capital of Koenigsberg. The shattering Soviet aerial blows cut heavily into transportation and communication facilities in East Prussia.

Hungary's effort to extricate itself from the war and from Germany's side apparently made little progress in view of a reported total mobilization ordered by the new pro-Fascist government of Ferenc Szalasi who usurped the regency.

From Stockholm came word that German forces in Finland, fearing entrapment by the Russians moving in from the north and the Finns advancing from the south, were in speedy flight toward Norway.

And, from London came reports that General Eisenhower soon will declare most of France, including Paris, a "zone of the interior," which will revert completely to French control.

YARDLEY, Oct. 18.—There were 22 members present at a recent meeting of the Junior Civic Club at the Community Centre. After a letter was read from the Russian Relief Committee concerning clothing already cut but needing sewing, it was decided to send for samples to be presented at the next meeting.

Reports were given by Miss Eleanor Caffey and Natalie Taylor, the club's representatives to the proposed School Door Canteen, as to what the students wished in the way of management and amusement.

Miss Elsie Davis reported on the boxes which are being sent to Yardley service women for Christmas. There are at present 11 girls in the service of whom one is serving overseas. A gift already has been sent to her. Of the 11, three are nurses, one WAC, one Marine and six WAVES.

It was voted to contribute $10 to the National War Fund and $5 to the Community Activities Committee.

Two new members were welcomed, Miss Carol Cadwallader and Miss Wilma Stevenson. Miss Natalie Taylor was voted to represent the club on the permanent executive board of directors of the School Door Canteen.

O living Christ, make us conscious now of Thy healing nearness. Touch our eyes that we may see Thee; open our ears that we may hear Thy voice; enter our hearts that we may know Thy love. Overshadow our souls and bodies with Thy Presence, that we may partake of Thy strength, Thy love, Thy light and Thy healing Life. Come into our hearts to stay. Come into our hearts Lord Jesus. We pray in Your Name. Amen.

Periodic functional pains don't worry me now. Thanks to those grand new Chi-Ches-Ters Pills! My druggist tells me the reason they're so effective is because of a special ingredient which is intended to help relieve the tension that causes functional distress. It works by helping to relax the affected part—not merely by deadening pain. The new Chi-Ches-Ters contain an added iron factor, too, intended to act as a tonic on your blood. Try the new Chi-Ches-Ters Pills on your "difficult days." Ask your druggist tomorrow for a 50c size and follow directions on the package.

Walt Stradling and Johnny Burns Prove Too Powerful For Warders

FINAL SCORE IS 18 TO 0

Bristol Team Played Good Ball But Could Not Cope With Visitors

The Third Ward Eagles dropped their second contest of the season Sunday afternoon, losing to the Edgely eleven, 18-0, on the Third Ward field.

Led by Walt Stradling and Johnny Burns, formerly of Morrisville High, the Edgelyites proved too powerful for the Warders. Stradling scored one of the touchdowns on a pass while Burns ran the other two over.

The boys of Coach Lavenberg played good ball but could not cope with the offensive power of the Edgelyites.

"The supplies are now stored as follows: Doylestown Emergency Hospital; The Quakertown Community Hospital; The Grand View Hospital; The Tice Laboratories; The Bucks County Rescue Squad; Croydon; 100 Emergency Ambulances located in the following places: Edison; Perkaskie; Chalfont; Buckingham; Doylestown; Morrisville; Neshaminy; New Britain; New Hope; Quakertown; Sellersville Washington Crossing.

"Fire and theft insurance was carried on the supplies while stored at one central location, the Moose Home.

"Automobile licenses were bought for the two ambulances (the rolling field hospital and the ambulance donated by Eric Knight).

"Inventories of supplies, their locations, receipts for supplies received, and all other records are available at the office of Civilian Defense and in the files of the director of medical supplies and hospitalization.

"When the epidemic of poliomyelitis struck North Carolina, the director of medical supplies and hospitalization called by telephone the Governor of North Carolina and offered to send the Rolling Field Hospital to North Carolina fully equipped with supplies, especially bandages, splints, cotton, stretchers, and blankets.

"The two ambulances of the medical supplies division are available for disasters whenever it is possible to send them.

"Supplies have been distributed to the Doylestown Fire Department for use by them."

Committee is involving us in issues that have nothing to do with labor as labor . . .

"During the rest of this campaign the Political Action Committee, now disguised as the National Citizens' Political Action Committee, will seek a personal contribution of one dollar from each CIO union member. I know the intimidations and coercions that can be practiced to get that dollar."

On September 29 an Associated Press story out of Washington carried the following:

" . . . Dock J. Williams testified (to the Dies subcommittee) that he was ousted by union higher-ups from the presidency of Local No. 25, United Packinghouse Workers Union, because he refused to approve a request for a $1500 contribution by his local for 'political education.'"

It should be noted that the contribution referred to does not appear to bear even the semblance of being a "voluntary political contribution" from members of the union, but rather a direct assessment upon the union's own funds.

Similar donations were referred to in an International News Service story out of Washington on September 26: "Senator Homer Ferguson, R. Mich., declared today that Attorney General Biddle 'missed the whole point' of the Hatch Act when he 'cleared' the CIO Political Action Committee and its successor, the National Citizens' Political Action Committee, of illegal political practices.

"Ferguson . . . contradicted Biddle's statement that testimony . . . disclosed no contributions of more than $500—the limit prescribed by the Hatch Act.

"He said that Biddle 'missed the point' by brushing aside committee testimony by Sidney Hillman, PAC chairman, that five unions contributed $100,000 each to PAC, and eight others gave from $10,000 to $50,000. A report filed with the clerk of the House listed $80,000 in contributions to the PAC from the CIO's Electrical, Radio and Machine Workers Union."

Evidence could be multiplied endlessly that the members of the CIO unions have little say, first, on the question of whether they make a "voluntary" donation to Hillman's PAC, and second, whether the union's reserve funds be tapped by the officers for such political use.

UNBROKEN FAITH

"UNBROKEN FAITH." These two words, carved on the monument marking the site of William Penn's treaty with the Indians, have in a real sense become the guiding precept of the city Penn created.

In war or peace, in good times or poor, this heritage of Faith Unbroken—passed on by the city's founders—has strengthened the will and quickened the hands of Philadelphians in their service to the nation and to the world.

Your neighbors who operate Philadelphia Electric are proud to join their fellow citizens in honoring the birthday of the man who built on such a firm foundation. With the Penn Treaty Monument standing in the very shadow of one of P.E.'s mammoth generating stations, it is natural that its inspiring words have come to shape our daily acts as well as those of the city we serve.
